

Observing a Learning Challenge: Heath Robinson

As you look at the group activity, grade how much your group exercised their learning muscles.

Not at all A lot

- They noticed small details and patterns ●+++++
- They kept going, tried things out, learnt from mistakes ●+++++
- They coped with distractions ●+++++
- They got involved in what they were doing ●+++++

- They asked questions of each other ●+++++
- They made links between things ●+++++
- They used a range of resources ●+++++
- They thought things through logically ●+++++
- They imagined how things might be ●+++++

- They made plans before they did things ●+++++
- They pulled the main points out of their experience ●+++++
- They stopped, took stock and changed tack ●+++++
- They knew how and when they learnt best ●+++++

- They made use of each other's skills ●+++++
- They worked well with each other ●+++++
- They all had something to offer ●+++++
- They listened and understood each other ●+++++
