Building Learning Power

Helping young people become better learners

Learning Review Level 1

Where are you now? An exploration of learning in lessons. An in depth review of learning in the school, undertaken with a team of staff from the school. For schools at the beginning of their involvement in using learning power

Benefits for the school

The school will gain a unique and objective view of the quality of learning in the school and how teachers are enabling young people to learn effectively. Review findings are useful in planning the longitudinal and multi-layered culture shift needed to grow creative, independent learners. The review process provides rigorous evidence of the school's quality of learning.

Benefits for participants

The Learning Review is undertaken with a team of reviewers from the school. As a result they develop skills in:

- Collecting data on learning
- Analysing independent learning skills in students
- Analysing effective teacher behaviours that promote the development of learning habits
- Enhancing the school's evidence collection processes

What will we provide?

Prior to the review

Key staff will have access to on-line planning and observational material for them to use before the review

During the review

- An experienced evaluator of learning
